

Plasters composed of A'ragvadha leaves pasted with A'ranalanfl proves curathe in ring-worms, keloid tumours, and psoriasis*
 A compound of Tilam, Triphaia, Vyosha, Bhallataka, sugar,
 honey and clarified butter taken in equal parts, is highly possessed of constructive and aphrodisiac properties, which may be given with benefit to patients, suffering from any form of cutaneous affections. A lambative consisting of Vidanga, Triphali, and KrishnaA pounded and pasted together* with honey covers urinary complaints (Mehas), skin diseases, intestinal worms, sinuses, and fistula in ano within the range of its therapeutic application. He, who takes Abhayarishtam (Urine of IVtyrobalan), or Amalaka and Niahft for a month, is sure to get rid of all kinds of skin deseases.
 Burn to ashes the sprouts of Amra an<i Khadira trees in an iron pot. Ashes thus prepared together with powders of Aksha, taken through the medium of honey and the expressed juice of Dhfttri, proves curative in all forms of cutaneous affections. This medicine is also possessed of a good rejuvenating efficacy. A decoction of Dhatri and Khadira taken with Valguja speedily cures even the most obstinate type of leucoderma Oil cf Bhallataka taken for a month cures all forms of leprosy; solution of catechu taken every day with food or drink cures all forms of skin-diseases. A medicated Ghritam cooked with a decoction and paste of Vasa, Guduchi, Triphala, Patolam,
 Karaniakam, Nimva, Asanam, and Krishna Vetasam proves curative in all forms of skin diseases, and enables its users to live up to a hundred years. . This Ghritam is called Vajrakam Ghritam. Take the expressed juice of Durva grass and four times as much oil, cook it in the usual ofHcinial method; external applications of this oil cures itche«, Paro, etc. An oil duly cooked and prepared in combination with Druma-bark, Tvak, Arka, Kushtham, rock salt, Garnvirika¹, and cow's urine proves curative in ulcers and skin diseases.

A decoction composed of Vasa, Amrita, Parpatakam, Nimva, Bhumma, Markara, Triphala, and Kula'ttha pulse, taken with